

2020 Forder Lecturer Julia Wolf

Julia Wolf is a University Lecturer in the Department of Pure Mathematics and Mathematical Statistics at the University of Cambridge, and a Fellow of her alma mater, Clare College. After obtaining a PhD in pure mathematics under the supervision of Fields medalist Timothy Gowers, she held a sequence of postdoctoral appointments in the United States between 2007 and 2010. From 2010 to 2013, she was a Hadamard Associate Professor at Ecole Polytechnique in Paris from 2010 to 2013, and from 2013 until her return to Cambridge in 2018 a Heilbronn Reader at the University of Bristol, where she also served as the Associate Chair of the Heilbronn Institute for Mathematical Research for three years. In 2016 Julia received the Anne Bennett Prize of the London Mathematical Society in recognition of her "contributions to additive number theory, combinatorics and harmonic analysis, and to the mathematical community".
